WHY DON'T YOU...?

Watch this:

BBC iPlayer - Wild Isles

Extraordinary. Dramatic. Beautiful.

Sir David Attenborough celebrates the wonders of British wildlife. It's our home, as you've never seen it before.

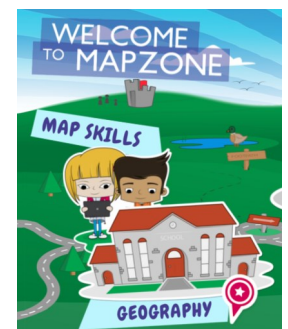

Read this: The Lost Temperate Rainforests of Britain by Guy Shrubsole

Temperate rainforest may once have covered up to one-fifth of Britain, inspiring Celtic druids, Welsh wizards, Romantic poets, and Arthur Conan Doyle's most loved creations. Guy Shrubsole travels through the Western Highlands and the Lake District, down to the rainforests of Wales, Devon, and Cornwall to map these spectacular lost worlds for the first time.

Dive into some fascinating topics and learn about the world around you. Discover how weather changes the landscape, how towns develop and how ancient glaciers shaped the mountains.

Do this: Make a map of your local neighbourhood or journey to school.

Include a title, key, scale and see if you can work out compass directions using the sun (rises in the east, sets in the west)
