Message from the Principal

Dear Families,

Welcome to week four of term; it might be short but it is busy!

Today is my favourite day of the year, Year 11 Clap Out. This is where we have a final assembly for our Year 11s, where we celebrate their many achievements and give them good luck cards, both from the staff but also from their parents (a huge thank you to all of you for sending something in, some of them are so incredibly thoughtful). After this, our Year 11s go on a walk of honour and our other year groups come out of their classes to show their appreciation and clap them out. Our Year 11 parents are also invited to complete this in the Plaza. This is prior to their exams starting on Thursday, which they have been preparing so well for.

The London Ambulance Service is coming in this week to give workshops to all Year 8s on lifesaving skills, which is such a useful thing for all of them. Year 9s have workshops from the police and Year 10s have trips to Kew and the V&A and we have the rescheduled Athletics trip after the rain last week. All in all, incredibly busy so please bear with us!

Thank you for your messages of support after the release of our Ofsted report which you can read HERE.

Have a lovely week.

Best wishes,

Ms Green
Principal

NOTICES

EQUIPMENT

As we approach end of year exams, it is even more important to ensure students have a fully stocked pencil case daily.

Checks will begin next week each morning to ensure students have everything needed for a day or learning, including an iPad with at least 75% charge. After next week, demerits will be issued to those without equipment.

MENTAL HEALTH

This week The National College are sharing their free guide on '10 Top Tips for Managing Exam Stress'. As we approach GCSEs and end of year exams, it is important for young people to manage their emotional and mental wellbeing at this demanding time. Check out this week's guide to help your child(ren) navigate this season.
